Annual salary $45,000–$100,000+

Job summary Realtime broadcast captioners provide captions for television programs, corporate and government conferences, sports programs, high-profile sporting events, and entertainment programs. Captioners can be employees of a company or work as independent contractors.

Education Graduation from a court reporting and captioning program.

Interested in pursuing a career?

Annual salary $45,000–$100,000+

Job summary Realtime broadcast captioners provide captions for television programs, corporate and government conferences, sports programs, high-profile sporting events, and entertainment programs. Captioners can be employees of a company or work as independent contractors.

Education Graduation from a court reporting and captioning program.

Interested in pursuing a career?

Annual salary $45,000–$100,000+

Job summary Realtime broadcast captioners provide captions for television programs, corporate and government conferences, sports programs, high-profile sporting events, and entertainment programs. Captioners can be employees of a company or work as independent contractors.

Education Graduation from a court reporting and captioning program.

Interested in pursuing a career?

Annual salary $45,000–$100,000+

Job summary Realtime broadcast captioners provide captions for television programs, corporate and government conferences, sports programs, high-profile sporting events, and entertainment programs. Captioners can be employees of a company or work as independent contractors.

Education Graduation from a court reporting and captioning program.

Interested in pursuing a career?

Annual salary $45,000–$100,000+

Job summary Realtime broadcast captioners provide captions for television programs, corporate and government conferences, sports programs, high-profile sporting events, and entertainment programs. Captioners can be employees of a company or work as independent contractors.

Education Graduation from a court reporting and captioning program.

Interested in pursuing a career?

Annual salary $45,000–$100,000+

Job summary Realtime broadcast captioners provide captions for television programs, corporate and government conferences, sports programs, high-profile sporting events, and entertainment programs. Captioners can be employees of a company or work as independent contractors.

Education Graduation from a court reporting and captioning program.

Interested in pursuing a career?

Annual salary $45,000–$100,000+

Job summary Realtime broadcast captioners provide captions for television programs, corporate and government conferences, sports programs, high-profile sporting events, and entertainment programs. Captioners can be employees of a company or work as independent contractors.

Education Graduation from a court reporting and captioning program.

Interested in pursuing a career?

Annual salary $45,000–$100,000+

Job summary Realtime broadcast captioners provide captions for television programs, corporate and government conferences, sports programs, high-profile sporting events, and entertainment programs. Captioners can be employees of a company or work as independent contractors.

Education Graduation from a court reporting and captioning program.

Interested in pursuing a career?

Annual salary $45,000–$100,000+

Job summary Realtime broadcast captioners provide captions for television programs, corporate and government conferences, sports programs, high-profile sporting events, and entertainment programs. Captioners can be employees of a company or work as independent contractors.

Education Graduation from a court reporting and captioning program.

Interested in pursuing a career?

Annual salary $45,000–$100,000+

Job summary Realtime broadcast captioners provide captions for television programs, corporate and government conferences, sports programs, high-profile sporting events, and entertainment programs. Captioners can be employees of a company or work as independent contractors.

Education Graduation from a court reporting and captioning program.

Interested in pursuing a career?

Annual salary $45,000–$100,000+

Job summary Realtime broadcast captioners provide captions for television programs, corporate and government conferences, sports programs, high-profile sporting events, and entertainment programs. Captioners can be employees of a company or work as independent contractors.

Education Graduation from a court reporting and captioning program.

Interested in pursuing a career?